Milka,

Here is a re-draft outlining our intended modifications at this time. Please review and see if it meets with what we discussed last Friday. If I need to send this formally through our respective channels, please let me know. I am out of the office the week of Sept. 10, but will pick up my voice mail. So, feel free to call if you have any questions or comments. Especially if you see something I need to add or change. Thank you.
